Description

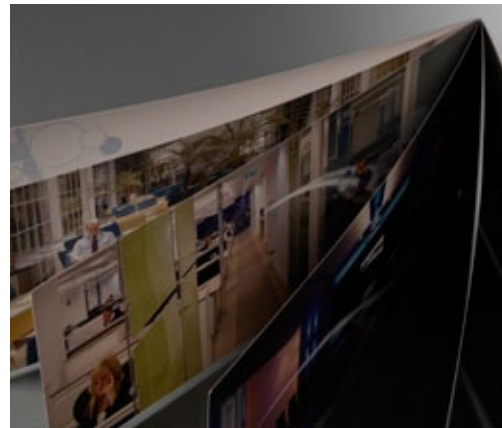

Leading commercial interior design company TSK were looking to update their brand style and looked to Manifest to come up with the solution.

Execution

TSK works with FTSE 100 companies and they required an image that would sit well within that market place. They also needed an aspiration brand that would attract key decision makers looking to create a truly stunning working environment. Manifest's 'Breathing new life' concept was perfect. With heavy use of creative photography and light graphic style Manifest developed a brand truly reflective of TSK. The brand was spread across all collateral from stationery, literature and direct mail through to on line, exhibition support and on-site signage.
